Kia ora Waimairi whānau,

Today we finished preparing to open our school, after five weeks of home lockdown.

I want to recognise the dedication of the teachers, support staff, Nicki, and Katrina, who have moved mountains over the last ten days to get us to the stage of a safe Level 3 re-opening.

We have a skeleton 'bubble staff' who are willingly leaving their own family bubble tomorrow to allow parents who need to, to return to work. A true illustration of the 'we are all in this together' kiwi spirit.

The rest of our staff remain at their screens running our distance learning and distance special needs programmes. Thanks team.

Over the weekend the school received an extensive 'deep clean' and is sparkling, ready to receive the kids in the morning.

Bring it on!

Nāhaku noa, nā

Mike Anderson
